Trade Finance Fintech CCRManager Announces Close of Latest Funding Round

Singapore, 12 May 2020

CCRManager, a global FinTech platform supported by the Monetary Authority of Singapore today announced that it has closed its latest funding round. CCRManager also welcomes new investor, Curzon Investment Pte. Ltd. to its group of backers.

Launched in 2017, CCRManager has been accelerating digitalisation in the Trade Finance industry by providing a secure and reliable enterprise platform to facilitate the distribution of trade assets in the inter-bank or secondary trade finance market. Over 100 global Financial Institutions and Non-Bank Financial Institutions across 35 countries are members of CCRManager.

“The funds raised will be used to accelerate CCRManager’s growth and expansion of CCRManager’s capabilities. This includes newly launched services that serve the wider corporate community, and which will facilitate seamless connectivity between corporates, their banks, and the inter-bank market. I am delighted to have the continued support of our clients, partners, and investors who share our vision,” said Tan Kah Chye, Executive Chairman and CEO of CCRManager.

Kevin Wibowo, Managing Director of Curzon Investment Pte. Ltd., said, “We believe in the work that CCRManager is doing, and the team behind it. The solution provided by CCRManager is a much-needed progress in the banking industry. We are happy for the opportunity to invest in CCRManager and I look forward to providing support in other areas beyond our financial investment.”
